I saw myself floating in blue and then opening my mouth, a rainbow coming out of it and it went to him, onto his lap.
It really worked. The transformation into a color that fills you.
I saw all of us sending the rainbow actually.

I saw the body being filled with yellow, for me it was yellow and then I was coming to him. It was like these two bodies filled with yellow coming together. It was very soothing. What really got me was the he is also part of you. I thought fuck. It's creepy but it's true.

I was more into the sea, swimming. Trying to get deep into the sea. I had difficulties about the loving. I was trying to focus but couldn't but then we all swam in the sea. He also went swimming.

It was very good. I realized that I don't have any problems with him. So this is good.

A photograph showing four people from behind, sitting on a sandy beach and looking out at the sea. They are wearing hats and casual summer clothing. The sea is calm, and there are mountains visible in the distance under a clear sky.

I had a lot of visuals, I was connecting with red thread from my mouth to his mouth, I was tripping out. The pain was in my chest and then I imagined that it was like a crust and then I took the crust and gave it to him on the wheelchair. And then it dissolved. Pretty amazing. But I was looking at this man in a wheelchair. I was like, ok. The thing was heavy. And then it was funny because it was building up from the last meditation because in the last meditation his body was filled with yellow but today it was pink. I imagined making a smoothie, yellow and pink filling his body. And then I felt intense heat. But it's nice, it's amazing.... I thought you were gonna say "breathe in air, breathe out Schäuble"

That was amazing. The meditation brought me to a swim. I was very much in contradictions because I saw myself farting and shitting. And then the peacefulness of the sea and bla bla it would go together and because of Schäuble it's always tricky to find the complete peace, I guess. Or think you're gonna reach it, it's like your mind is stopping you like op, that's when the shit came up at that point and the farting. So I just washed myself.

Facebook event page for "Meditation for Schäuble".

Event Details:

- Date/Time: Donnerstag, 23. Juli 18:30 - 20:00 (UTC+03) vor etwa 2 Wochen
- Location: Syntagma-Platz, Πλατεία Συντάγματος, 10557 Athen
- Join the collective Guided Meditation for Schäuble.
- If you are in Athens: we meet at 6.30 pm at Syntagma Square in Athens, Greece and start meditating at 7 p.m. until 8 p.m. (with breaks).
- This is a collaborative action to send love to Wolfgang Schäuble, Minister of Finance of Germany and key figure not only of the Greek crisis, but also active in reshaping the world in a way that most of us don't want.
- Many attempts have failed to turn things around. Let's explore the power of meditation.
- We are all connected, we are a part of him, he is a part of us. We will meditate on forgiveness and send him love.
- Come and join this attempt. It will be an experience, no matter what the outcome. The more we are, the more powerful the field will be!
- The meditation will be guided by Vera Hofmann
- You can connect to the field wherever you are in the world, just start your ritual or your meditation at the same time.
- (Germany and Norway: 6 p.m.)
- __this is a private artist initiative by Vera Hofmann, not bound to any party, belief and organisation.

I couldn't forgive him. I was very unsuccessful. Maybe next time. I was trying to think of excuses for him to be tough, male, bald guy, doing all this harm around him. I try to find excuses, he went through this in his life, haha. And then I was like, ok everyone goes through a lot of hardship and still they don't act in this way. So it was much more of a rational thing for me. I couldn't take the step.

For me it is very mixed because I know the inwards things also here that it is our fault for many things so I am in between. But I kind of projected light to the whole head offices of the thing so I didn't specify my thoughts in his face. A little bit, I send him light, but I tried to send light to the whole thing. My feet were numb. What really calmed me down was your voice and the sound of water and the voices of the people passing by. It's very calming. It's weird because I calmed down more now here than in my room. And slowly slowly I started to see light and getting all the dark sides like bubbles outside me and when you said Schäuble I see his face. So I created a circle of light around him and I saw him in his wheelchair so I did like a outline of light. That was it kind of. It was distant, it wasn't negative. It helped me if I visualize it with colors.
